

Alpine Overhead Doors, Inc. is a leader in the manufacturing of overhead rolling doors. Alpine supports a greener environment. With LEED® as a guide for us, we will help to create a cleaner, greener way of providing quality products for consumers.

LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) was developed by the USGBC (United States Green Building Council). LEED provides for developing high-performance, sustainable buildings and is a voluntary, consensus-based national rating system.

The LEED Rating System guides and distinguishes high-performance commercial and institutional projects. The Rating System has six categories.

Alpine Overhead Doors, Inc. contributes to these six categories as follows:

1. Sustainable Sites: Not applicable to Alpine Overhead Doors, Inc. products.
2. Water Efficiency: Not applicable to Alpine Overhead Doors, Inc. products.
3. Energy and Atmosphere: Not applicable to Alpine Overhead Doors, Inc. products.
4. Materials and Resources:
 - Category 4 contribution by Alpine Overhead Doors, Inc.:
 - Our products consist of recycled content. Alpine's products contain a combination of Post-Industrial Recycled and Post-Consumer Recycled content.
 - ✓ Counterbalance, Pipe shafts:
 - 79% Post-Consumer 19% Post-Industrial
 - 98% Recycled Material
 - ✓ Counterbalance, Springs:
 - 95-98% Recycled Steel
 - ✓ Extruded Aluminum Grille Curtain components:
 - 0% Post-Consumer 68% Post-Industrial
 - ✓ Structural Steel Wall Angles and Guides:
 - 85% Post-Consumer 0% Post-Industrial
 - 98% Recycled Material
 - ✓ Hoods:
 - 0% Post-Consumer 0% Post-Industrial
 - 93.3% Recycled Material
 - ✓ Stainless Steel Angles:
 - 15-20% Post-Consumer 40-50% Post-Industrial
 - ✓ Slats:
 - 0% Post-Consumer 0% Post-Industrial
 - 93.3% Recycled Material
 - ✓ Motor Covers:
 - 0% Post-Consumer 0% Post-Industrial
 - ✓ Extruded Aluminum Tracks:
 - 0% Post-Consumer 68% Post-Industrial
 - ✓ Extruded Aluminum Angles:
 - 0% Post-Consumer 68% Post-Industrial
5. Indoor Environmental Quality: Not applicable to Alpine Overhead Doors, Inc. products.
6. Innovation and Design Process: Not applicable to Alpine Overhead Doors, Inc. products.

LEED® is a trademark of The USGBC.

Alpine Overhead Doors, Inc. is proud to help provide a safer, cleaner, greener environment for the well being of the planet and all of its inhabitants. We live here too.